

How many/much dipping items do I need?

It really depends on the type of event, serving before, during or after any main meal, and what other items might be available at the same time. For example, at a wedding reception, people may return to the fountain multiple times during the event, but at an open house they come and go so might only visit once.

The amount needed varies, but we have extensive experience and can help you determine how to serve your guests well. Call us, tell us about your event, and we'll advise you based on our previous experience.
