

Maybe you don't, but most fountains you can buy as a consumer are small tabletop models. They're great for small groups. But for large groups, or to make a statement to your guests, you need a large fountain that is cost prohibitive for one time use. Operating such a fountain is not a simple undertaking. You should enjoy your event and entertain your guests. Leave the chocolate to us. We'll do it all for you.

By the way, if you have a small fountain, we can provide the bulk chocolate for you. It will be much better tasting than what you'd buy in the local store.
